

FAQs for Study in France

France is one of the most popular destinations for international students. Among its major benefits are the high quality of education, the extraordinarily low tuition fees and the pleasant French lifestyle. France is keen to provide higher education in all subjects and to all students. This is a true statement, regardless of which university you intend to attend.

When student decides to study in France, they generally have a lot of questions and we have answer to all, few of them are listed below to clear out your questions also:

#1. How much does it cost to study in France?

Ans. The general course range for master start with 8K/annum tuition fees and in addition to that the average living cost in France ranges from 600 to 1000 Euros depending upon the location you choose as your study destination. You can get the complete details at cost of study In France

#2. What are the requirements to study in France?

Ans. The European education system provides the option of assessment on the basis of MOI, having an IELTS is like having cheery on the top of the cake. IELTS helps to make your profile stronger but it is NOT MANDATORY. You need to have skills to clear the university and campus France interview. They are pretty simple and mainly focus upon your motivation to study and language skills. For documentation process you can go through our checklist section.

#3. Is France good for study?

Ans. France is the ideal place to study abroad for your degree thanks to its rich culture, gastronomy, architecture, and thriving student life! Studying in France gives you the opportunity to learn the language and gain cultural perspective.

#4. How can I get PR in France after study?

Ans. We have this question from a lot of student and we have answered it in best form through video.

<https://youtu.be/amK4n8xsjRM>

#5. Is it necessary to know French to study in France?

Ans. No, learning French is not compulsory for studying in France, major of the programs are taught in English.

#6. Is IELTS mandatory for study in France?

Ans. No, You can apply without IELTS in France infact almost all top business schools & universities do accept students on the bases of MOI.

#7. Where can apply for scholarship?

Ans. Almost all scholarships can be applied through Campus France - you may visit this page to know all available scholarships: Scholarships In France

#8. What are grandes écoles?

Ans. The Grandes Écoles of France are higher education establishments that are outside the main framework of the French public university system. The Grandes Écoles are highly selective, elite, and prestigious institutions, their graduates have dominated upper levels of the private and public sectors of French society for decades.

#9. Is living and working in France after graduation possible?

Ans. Yes, very much possible. If you have studied either RNCP or Grand Ecoles certified master degree program from any school of France, you will be able to apply for APS visa which is in layman terms, ' post study job search visa'. Once you get a job, you can convert your visa into Work permit. To more about post study work & PR scenarios & options click on France PR For Indian Students

FAQs for Study in France

#10. What is triple accredited business school in France? Why applying in accredited school important?

Ans. Accreditation is a quality assurance process in which an independent organisation assesses the educational quality of a specific study programme or educational institution. When a business school is accredited by an organisation, it means that the school meets a set of quality standards, ensuring that students in their business and MBA degrees receive high-quality education. Accreditation is usually provided for specific study programmes, or for a specific time (e.g. for 5 years). After that time, or when there are substantial changes, the university has to request accreditation once more.

Business school accreditations are conducted by independent organisations, each of which have developed their own set of standards. The three largest international business school accreditation associations are:

AACSB - The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business
(based in Tampa, Florida, USA)

AMBA - The Association of MBAs (based in London, United Kingdom)

EQUIS - European Quality Improvement System (based in Brussels, Belgium)

#11. How much does it cost to study in France?

Ans. Normally good business schools start with 7500 to 15000 Euros, it can go above as well for some niche programs in top business schools. Public universities often have almost no cost or as low as 3500-7000 Euros. This cost is estimated per year.